

Personal Leadership Philosophy

As a final requirement for the Leadership Certificate, you must write and submit a 2-3 page paper detailing your personal leadership philosophy as described below. Knowing and being able to articulate your personal leadership philosophy is an important part of being a good leader. Your leadership philosophy statement should be brought with you to your final meeting with your leadership advisor and will be included as part of your leadership certificate portfolio.

Leadership Philosophy Paper:

Reflect on your leadership training, education and development and describe how your leadership philosophy (definition of leadership) has changed since you first enrolled in the certificate program. Please reference the programs or courses you have participated in and the service you completed. Be sure to articulate your new definition of leadership.

Personal Leadership Philosophy

As a final requirement for the Leadership Certificate, you must write and submit a 2-3 page paper detailing your personal leadership philosophy as described below. Knowing and being able to articulate your personal leadership philosophy is an important part of being a good leader. Your leadership philosophy statement should be brought with you to your final meeting with your leadership advisor and will be included as part of your leadership certificate portfolio.

Leadership Philosophy Paper:

Reflect on your leadership training, education and development and describe how your leadership philosophy (definition of leadership) has changed since you first enrolled in the certificate program. Please reference the programs or courses you have participated in and the service you completed. Be sure to articulate your new definition of leadership.